

Christian Classroom Online/LessonNow Order Form

Use this form for any course using Christian Classroom Online (CCO) videos—whether for individual student access (CCO Individual Online Courses) or for classroom viewing (LessonNow Video Streaming).

This guide will help you

- select correct textbook editions (some videos use older editions).
- order all required and optional materials for each course.

What is Christian Classroom Online (CCO)?

CCO courses feature prerecorded video lessons taught by experienced Christian teachers, corresponding with all core BJU Press textbooks from K4 through grade 12. These same videos are now available for classroom viewing in the BJU Press Trove® Resource Library as LessonNow videos. Individual Student Access will be available in Trove for fall 2026!

These video lessons provide a reliable resource to support multi-grade classes, independent study or credit recovery, hybrid classes, and traditional classroom teachers. Video lessons can also assist substitute teachers.

Choose the format that works best for your school: LessonNow Videos or CCO Individual Student Courses (both are located in Trove).

LessonNow Videos in Trove: Schools without a qualified teacher (or a teacher wearing too many hats) can use LessonNow Videos and facilitator resources in Trove to play videos in class. Your school's facilitators will manage these classes, provide tutoring, and grade assignments. Videos can also be shared with students in Trove (through the purchase of any Trove student item, one per student) as a tool for review or further study.

CCO Individual Student Courses: Students can work independently, with their own login and daily paced lessons. A school-provided facilitator is needed to help support and motivate students, evaluate select assessments, and monitor course progress.

Visit the Trove Help Center to find tutorials that demonstrate how to find LessonNow Videos and facilitator resources and how to use CCO Individual Courses and interactive eTextbooks, including how students complete assignments digitally, what is auto-graded, and other interactive features.

Ordering Instructions

1. Order your Trove subscription.

Beth Cofer

English 7

The English 7 video course is a yearlong course that covers both Exploring Themes in Literature and Writing & Grammar 7 daily.

Writing & Grammar 7 alternates between teaching concepts in grammar and developing writing skills. Grammar lessons include teacher demonstrations, application of grammar concepts to writing, entertaining video segments showing the importance of grammar, and practice. Writing lessons include writing instruction, teacher modeling of writing skills, additional application of grammar, and time to work on writing projects through workdays. Video segments for writing chapters show application of writing skills.

Exploring Themes in Literature teaches students to evaluate literature from a biblical worldview. Lessons follow the reading process approach as the teacher introduces the content to be read, goes over new vocabulary, and discusses the reading before moving on to the next selection. Video segments for literature lessons unpack information about authors.

English 8

The English 8 video course is a yearlong course that covers both Making Connections in Literature and Writing & Grammar 8 daily.

Writing and Grammar 8 will help your students to become clear, coherent, and well-developed communicators by giving them opportunities to learn from good writers and apply grammar and writing skills to their own writing. This course teaches students how to use written, spoken, and visual language to communicate clearly and effectively.

Making Connections in Literature gives students the reading strategies and literary skills they need to comprehend, analyze, interpret, and compare texts of different genres. They will evaluate both contemporary and classic selections and complete a full-length novel study of Across Five Aprils. Ultimately, this course encourages students to develop both artistic and biblical discernment so they can be creative, Christlike communicators.

World History (6th edition)

World History invites your students to study the major patterns that have shaped our world, revealing how they ultimately point to the triumph of God's kingdom. This journey through history will cover developments from Creation to the twenty-first century. Along the way, your students will study significant periods of world history—from the earliest post-Flood civilizations to the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Reformation, and the Enlightenment. Your students will also have the opportunity to consider the development of Western civilization and explore the diverse civilizations and empires of Africa, Asia, and the pre-colonization Americas.

Geometry (5th edition)

Explore the world of geometry, where students will build critical-thinking skills through hands-on experiences with 2-D and 3-D shapes. By combining classic geometric proofs with real-world problems, students will use both digital and mechanical tools to create shapes, prove relationships, and calculate key measurements. By diving deep into transformations and trigonometric ratios, students will discover how God's design shapes our reasoning and ethical choices.

Biblical Worldview: Beyond the Basics

(2nd edition)

Biblical Worldview: Beyond the Basics takes students beyond simply understanding a biblical worldview and foundational Christian doctrines, showing them how to use that worldview to interact with and understand today's culture. By learning the Creation-Fall-Redemption paradigm and applying it to modern issues such as gender controversies, technology use, and government concerns, students learn not just how to understand but also how to do—applying their faith to make a difference in today's culture.

English 11

The English 11 video course is a yearlong course that covers both American Literature and Writing & Grammar 11 daily.

Writing & Grammar 11 presents and reviews key concepts in grammar, usage, and mechanics. It includes writing projects to develop writing and communication skills, as well as reference chapters for library and study skills. The video course includes segments that explore common grammar mistakes and inspirational insights on why students should write.

American Literature uses the reading process approach to encourage high-level reading comprehension and critical-thinking skills as it introduces students to a variety of new authors and genres. Students will also learn close reading and other study skills. The video course includes segments that introduce the topics covered in each unit, explore the authors' lives, and provide dramatizations and animations of literary excerpts. The video course focuses primarily on literature and writing while also offering regular review of key grammar concepts.
